OXEN ON LOWER WALNUT STREET

It took at least 20 oxen to pull this wagon with one huge log up lower Walnut Street.

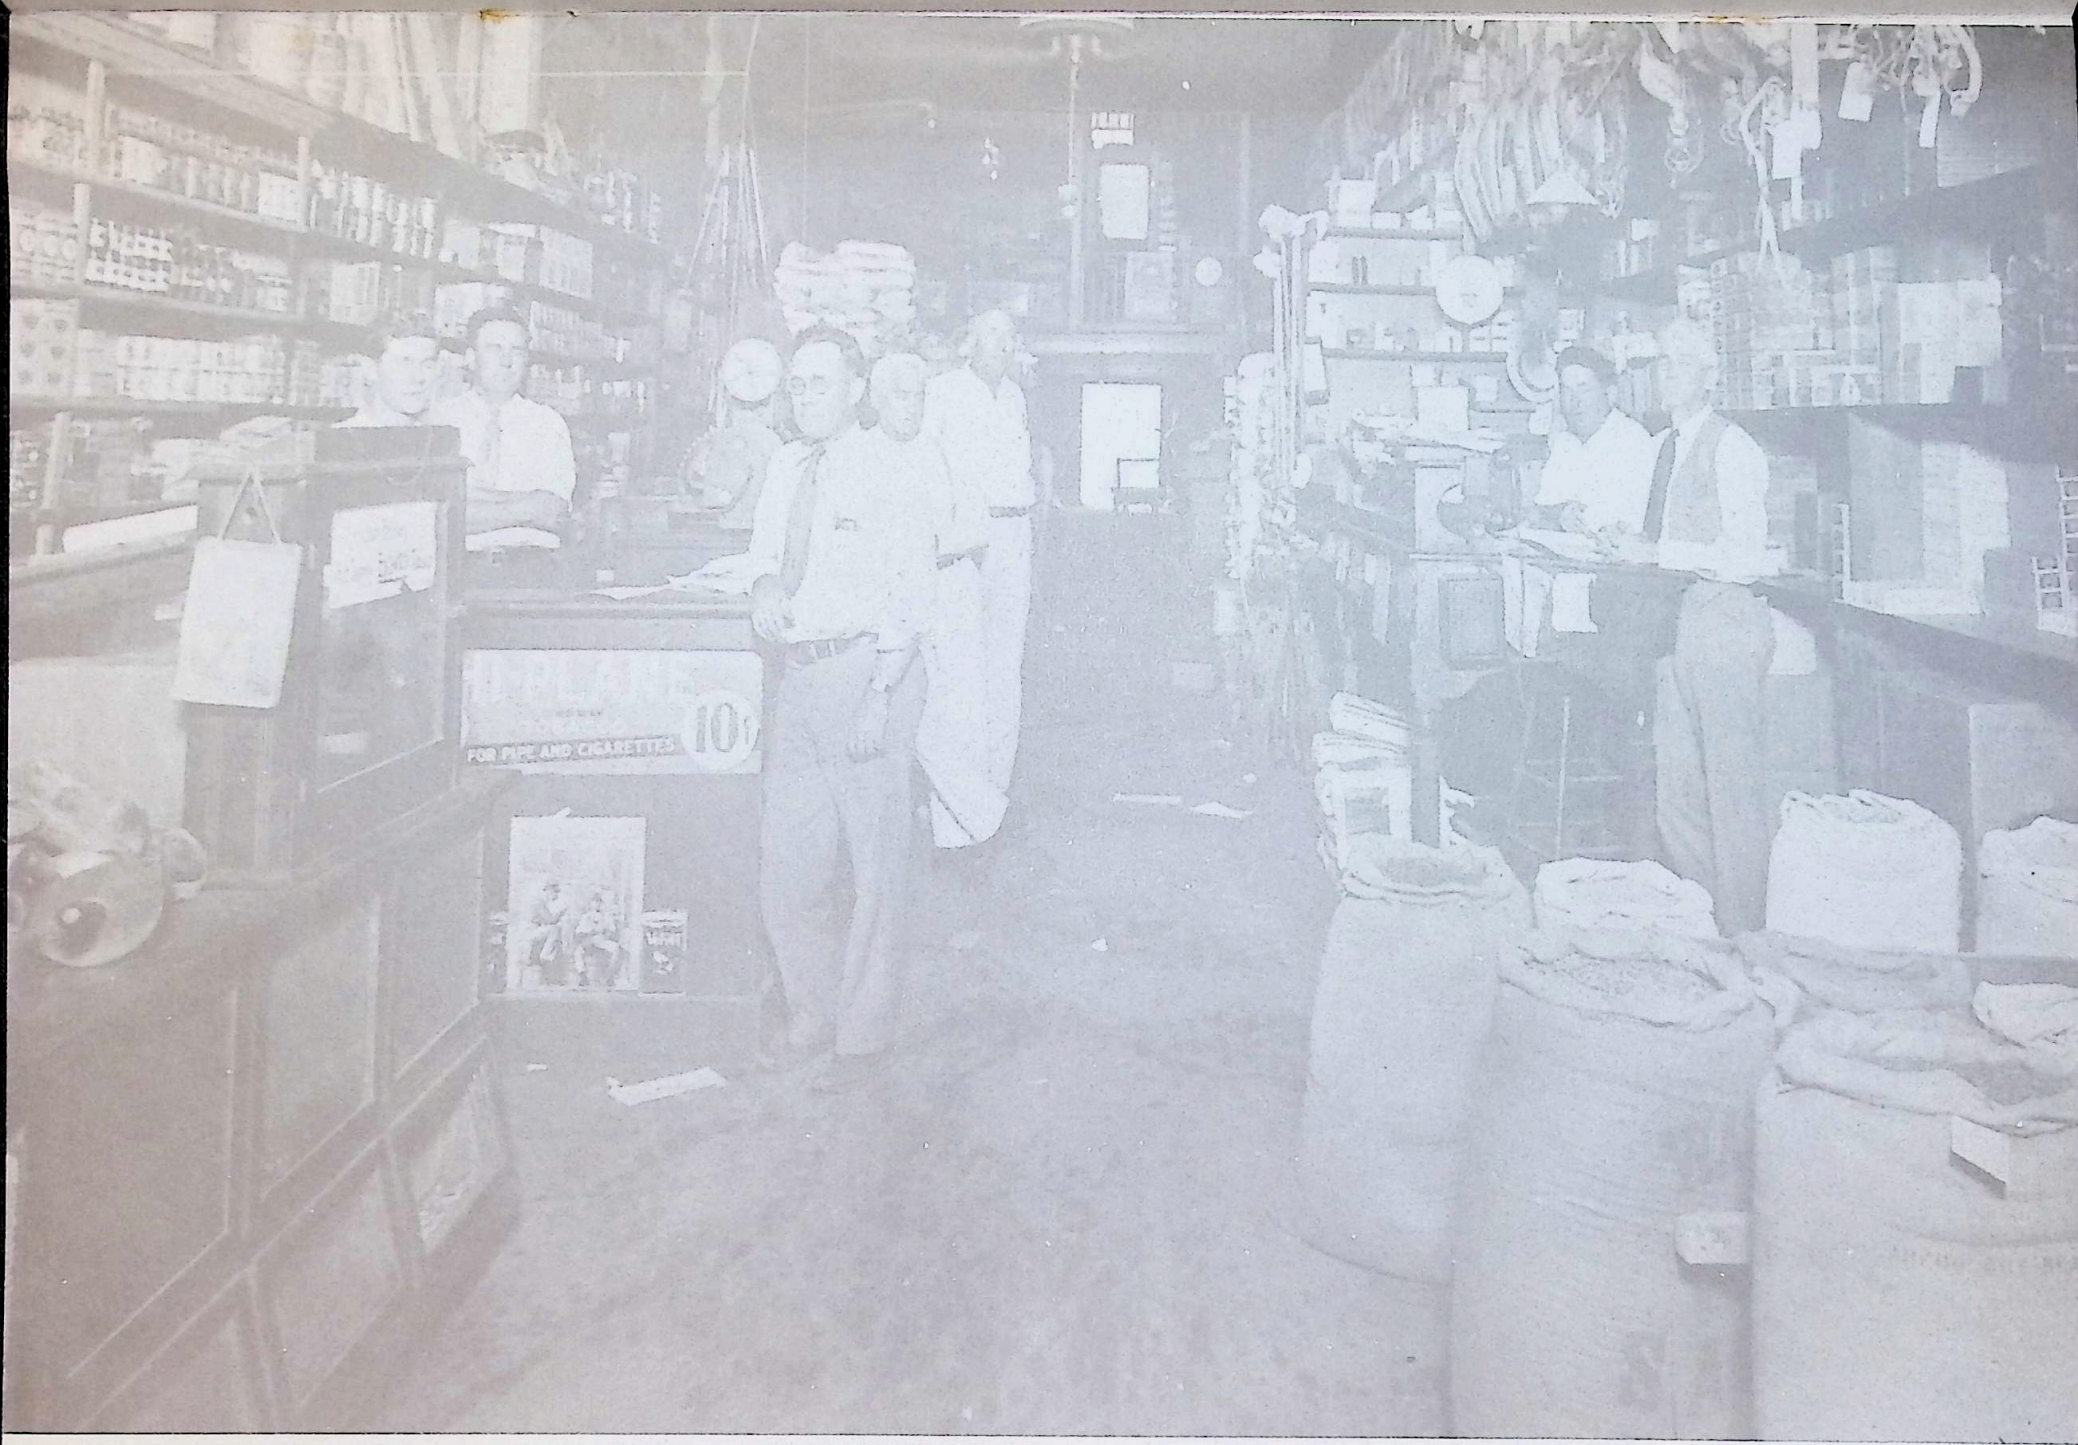
ALMER STORE BUILDING

70

This building is situated on the southeast corner of Columbia and Miller Streets. It was built in the early 189[illegible]'s from material taken from the barge that floated the Almer home down the Mississippi from Iowa to Helena. The building is now being restored to be used as a cooperative community arts and crafts center.

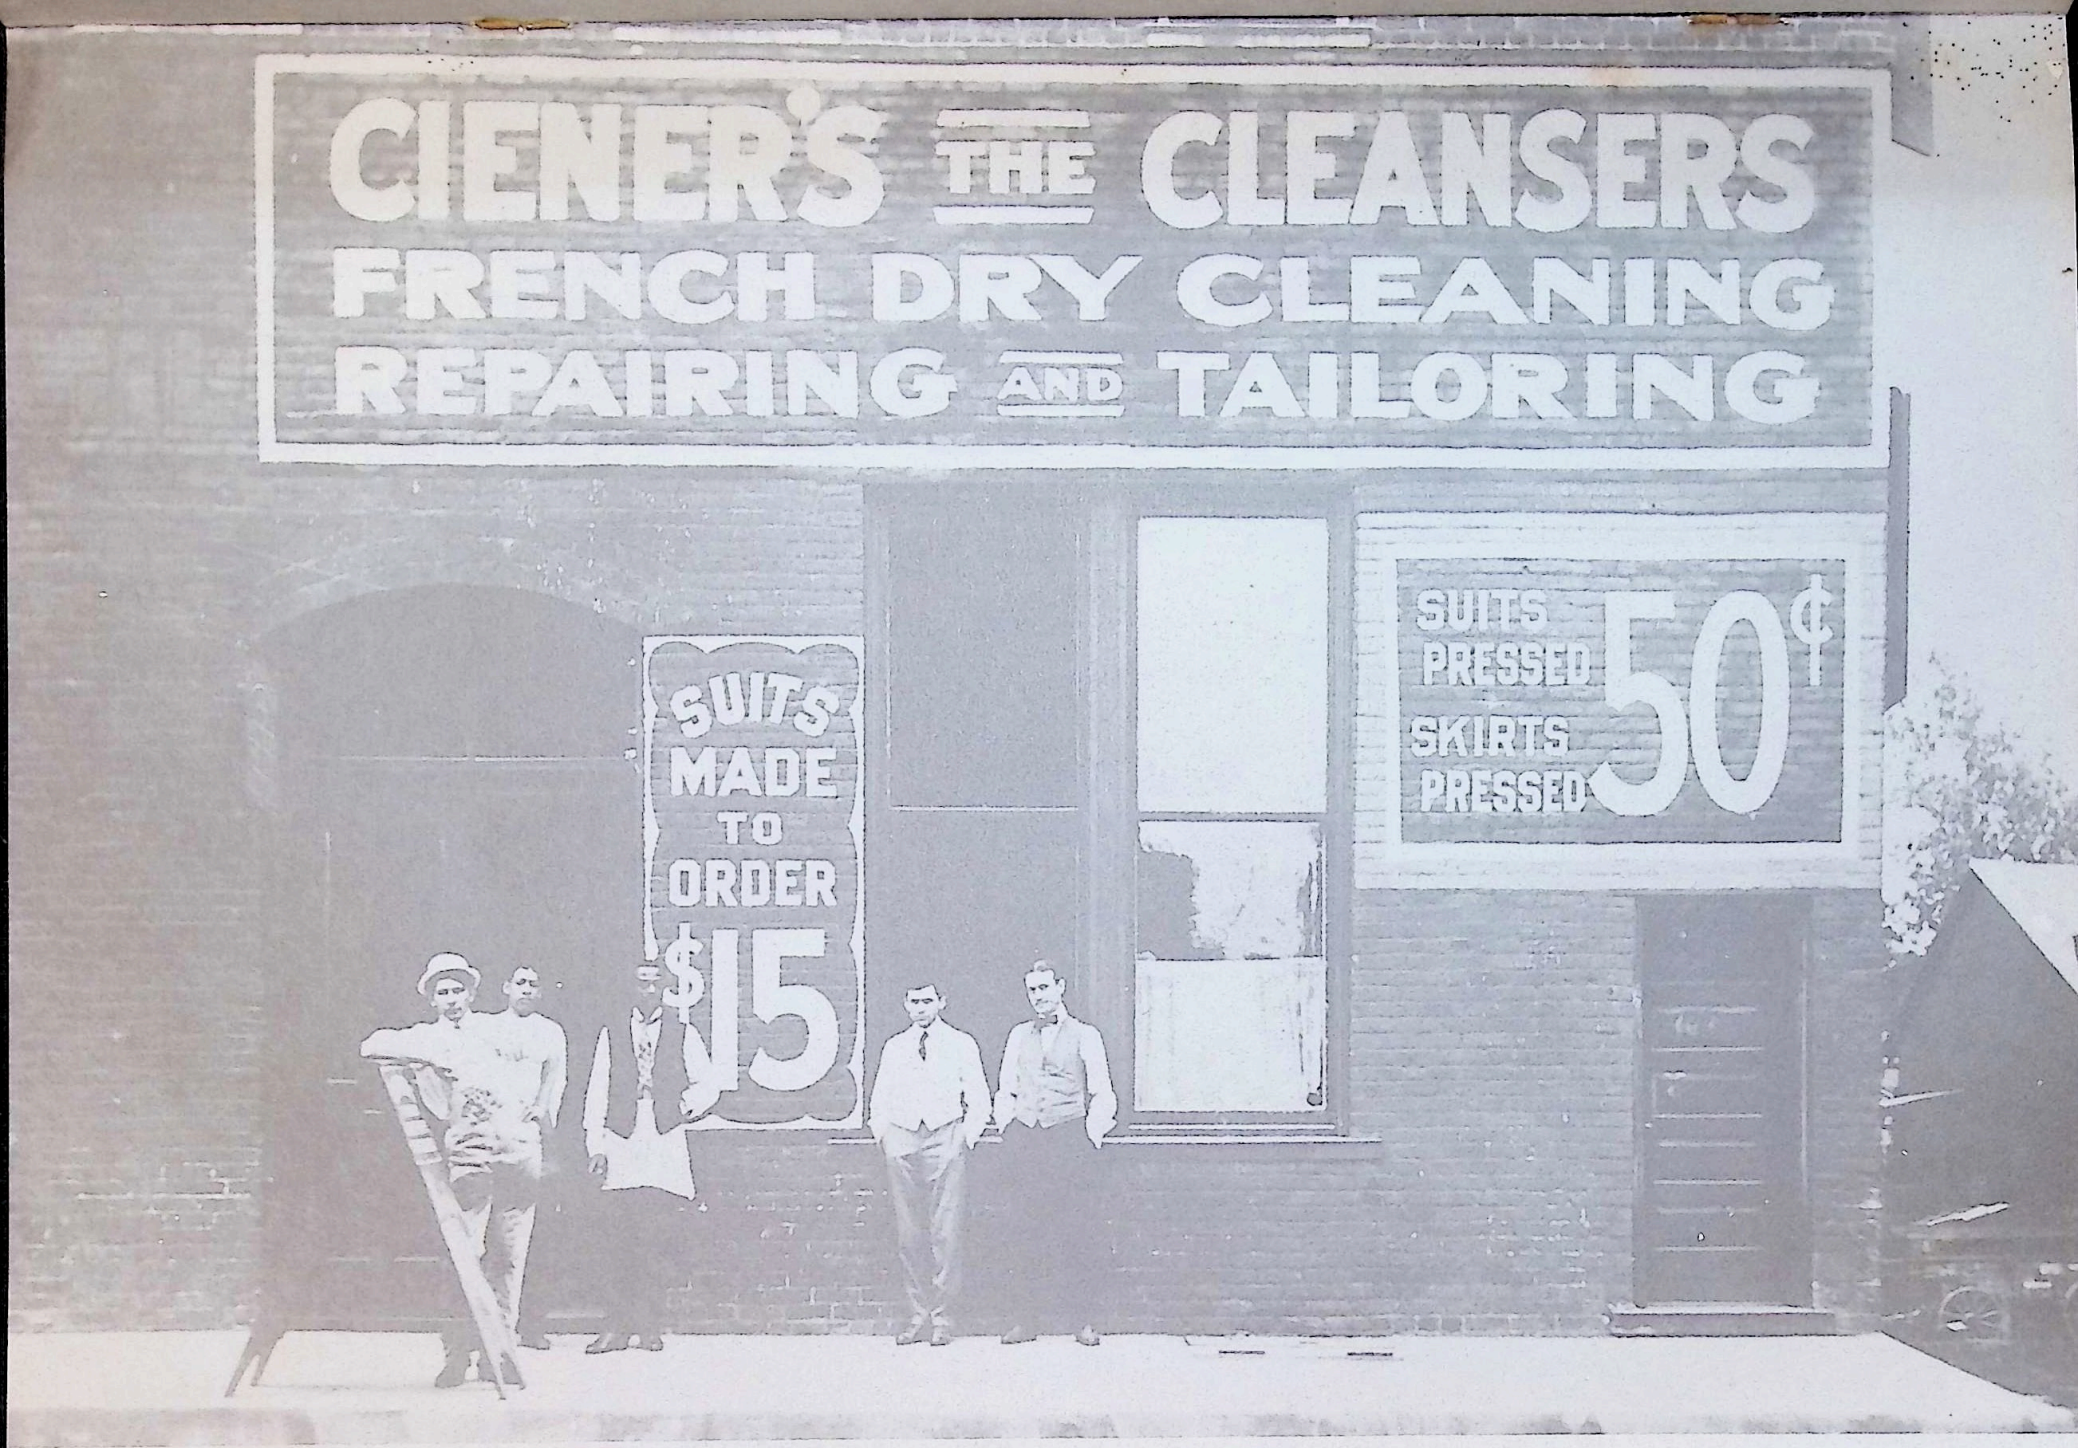
CURB MARKET

The Southern Implement Company now sits on this location, formerly occupied by the old YMCA, but in 1920, it was a curb market and had its share of passers-by and customers, too.



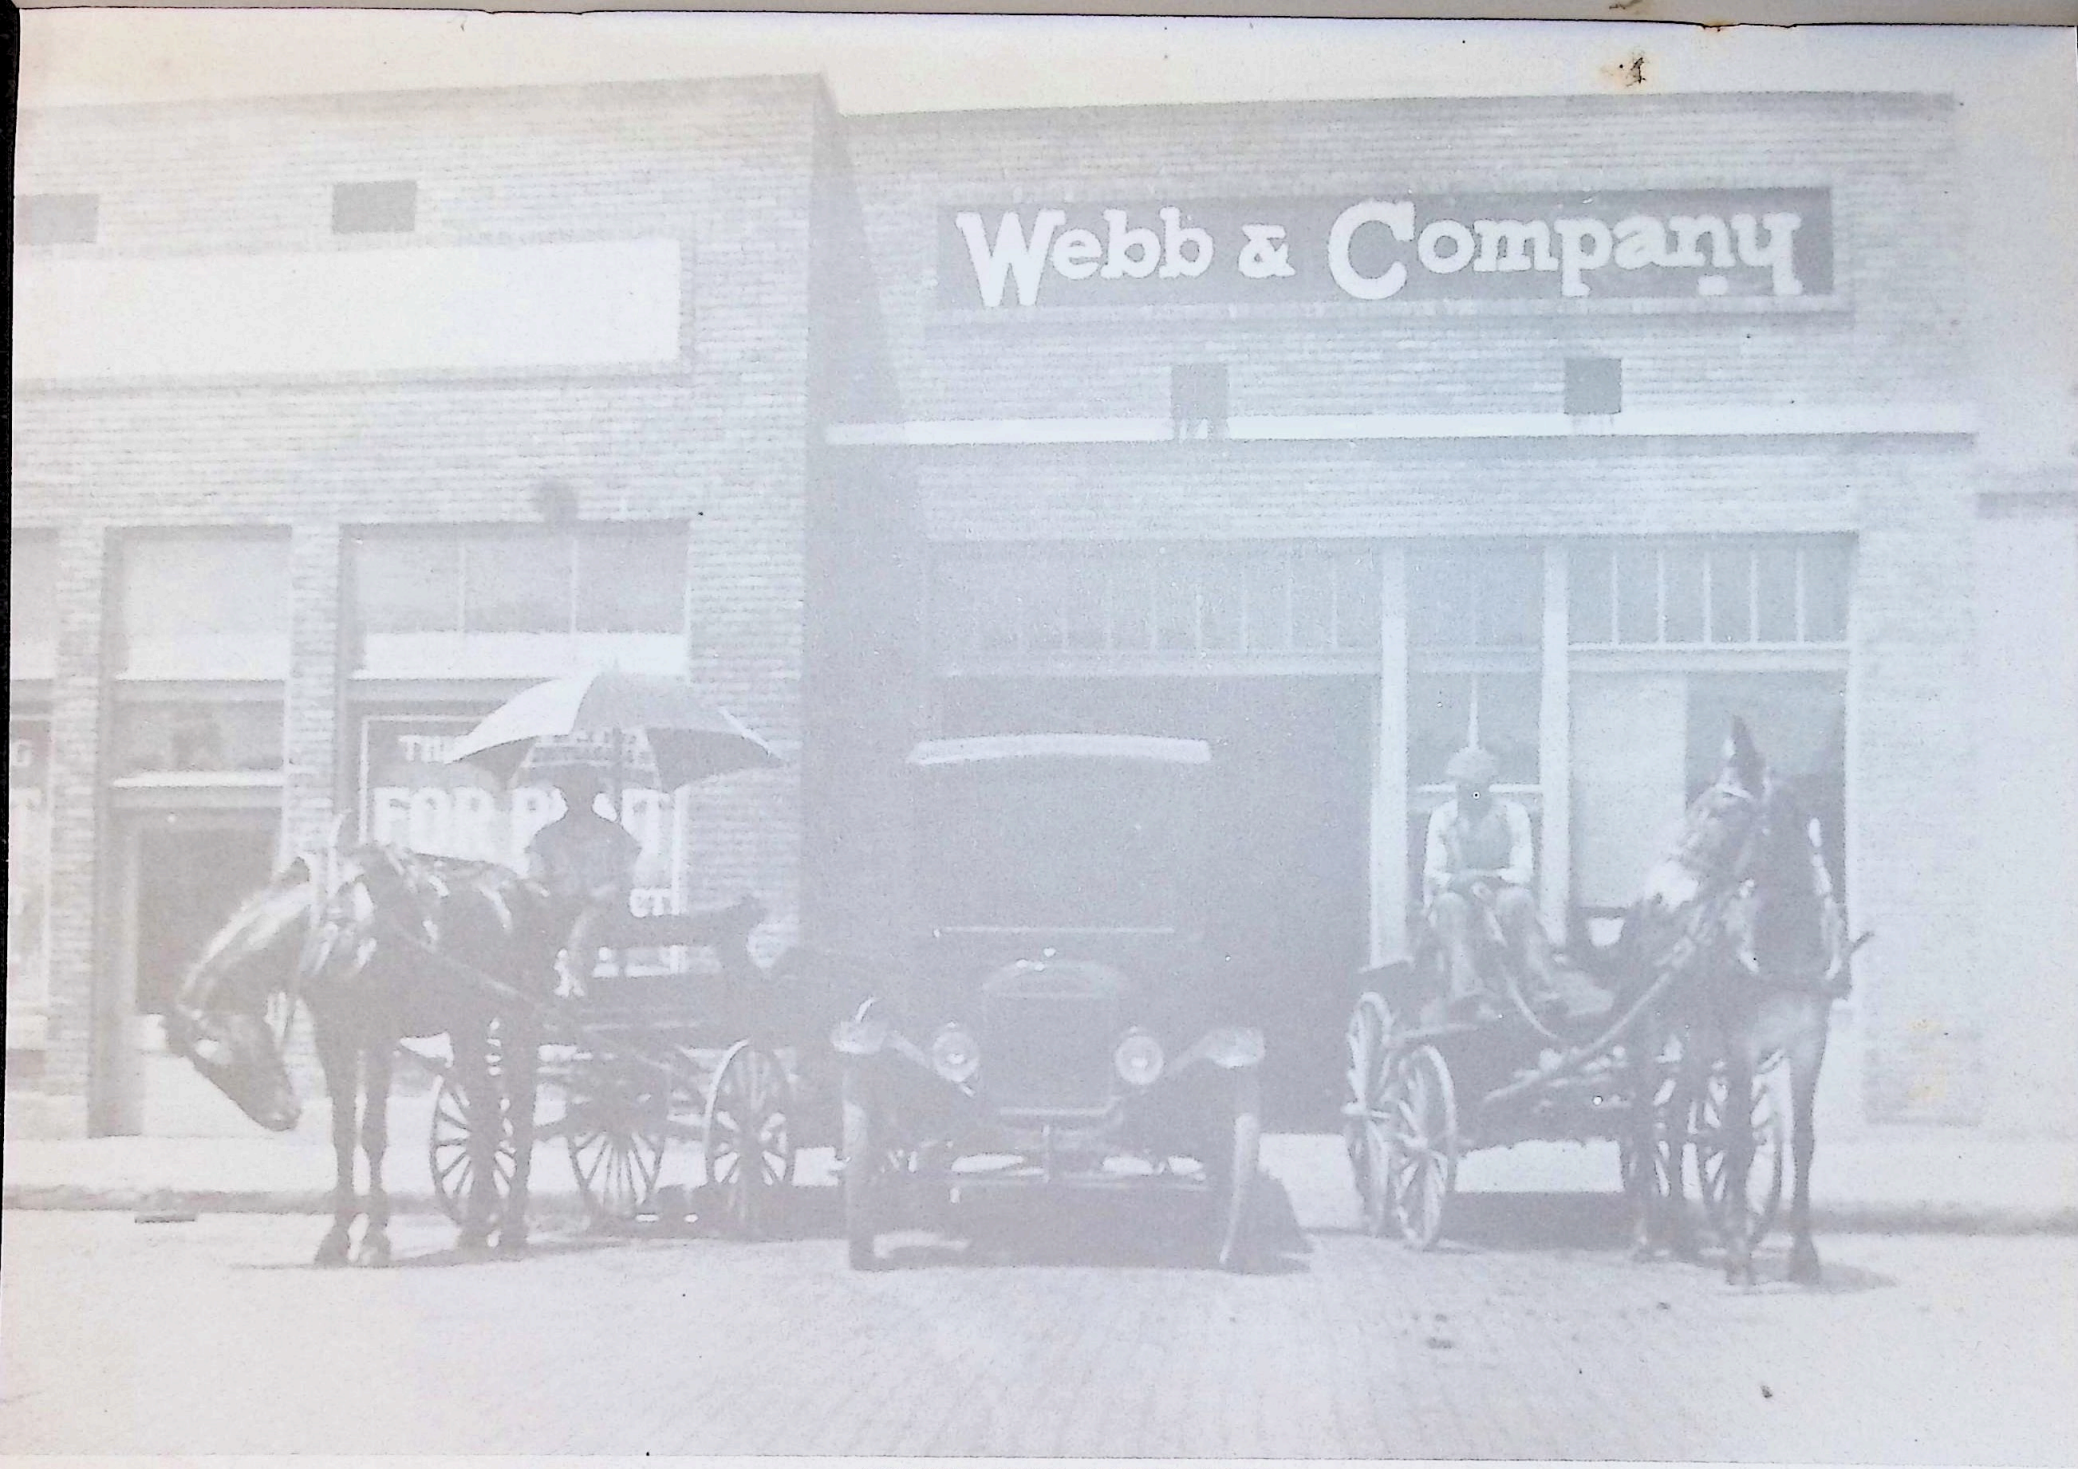
THE WOOTEN-EPES COMPANY

At the time this picture was taken, the Wooten-Epes Company occupied the location at the northwest corner of Cherry and Elm Streets where the J. C. Penney store now stands. This photograph was taken in 1932 or 1933, before the store burned in 1935.



CIENER'S THE CLEANSERS

This store was located across the alley on Rightor Street, back of the Old Interstate Bank Building, now occupied by Ciener's. The picture was taken in 1909.



WEBB AND COMPANY

This building was located at the east end of Elm Street. The picture was taken in 1922.

SOLOMON BUILDING

Now the Helena National Bank Building, it was known as the Solomon Building in days after 1909 when the original building burned.

THE HELENA ICE COMPANY

This was located on the corner of Missouri Street at Chickasaw. Employing 20 men, the company had a daily capacity of 85 tons of ice.

HABIB'S

This picture of Habib's Restaurant was taken prior to 1908. The ceiling fan was water-driven and the lights were carbide. Habib's has stood in its present location since about 1890.

MAIN FRONT STREET LANDING

This picture was taken around 1897, during one of the floods at the Main Front Street Landing. Shown are the river boat, "Zip McCoy;" the Helena Branch of the Tennessee Brewing Company; the Newby Company; City Hotel; J. C. Jeffries Groceries and J. Coates & Company.
